

Open ERP

Open Source Management Software

The La Bella Easo Company situated in the Polygon (Zone Malpica) of Saragossa, received the PILOT in the Logistic Excellence 2008 award in the category of Big Companies.

The company has its root backdated since last forty years, and the credit solely lies in the hard work and dedication of the professionals who has been the part of the company, which has reached a massive landmark of 366 employees and their innovative technology implementation using Open ERP.

La Bella Easo manufactures and distributes perishable goods, logistics. It considers Innovation as "one of the pillars of business" and has always sought to position "to the latest advances in logistics" with innovations such as "project Vince, for the control and knowledge each of the outlets.

La Bella Easo Company

La Bella Easo is in the integration phase with Barilla Company with its headquarters in Italy is one of the European leaders in the food sector with a turnover of approximately 5.000 million euro. So, La Bella Easo will begin distributing Barilla products in Spain and in Portugal and, at the same time, will arrange for new distribution channels for their products.

The company realized that if they want to grow at a faster rate, they need to optimize their logistic cost. They got interested in Open ERP, as it's completely adapted to the management of sales and purchases as well as the stock.